PROFESSIONAL  EXPERIENCE

Application Development Analyst

June 2019 - Currently

Accenture Technology Solutions, Cagliari (Italy)

I worked on the development of software applications (mainly Back End), but  also on the analysis of the specific solution for the client. The client sectors were of different types, but mainly I've worked for clients in Financial sector.
I've started as an intern, then I was hired as an Application
Development Associate and, since June 2019, I'm  Application Development Analyst.
More specifically I used the following tools and programming languages:
• SAS: programming language used mainly  for data manipulation and ETL.
• Many DBMS (specially relational) such as Oracle, Netezza and Teradata.
• Java --> JSP and Servlet, even if  less often than  SAS
• Main Unix commands
• Python --> for specific scripts to be integrated in application

I've been on unpaid leave for one year (October 2020 -  October 2021) in order to  be more focused on studying computer science at University.

Application Development Associate

July 2017 – June 2019

Intern

October 2016 – July 2017

During my internship I mainly used Qlik.

I've been focused on the following tasks:

- development of the processes of ETL01, ETL02 and Presentation

- calculation of specific KPI that were useful for the representation of company values in some reports .

EDUCATION

Bachelor Computer Science

oct 2019 - Currently Sapienza University, Rome

I've started  in' october  2019 in order to improve my technical knowledge in computer science. I have to do less than 10 exams to get my degree, but my job is my priority. University is just complementary to  my job.

Course WMA (Web Mobile Application)
